Gliding, dipping, or just plain walking, the campus foot sets the pace for the year's social whirl. The traditional social highlights of the college year are entered into with great gusto by every impatiently tapping foot. With its best foot forward, the student body moves rhythmically through a galaxy of social events.

FRESHMAN WEEK

Shuffle, shuffle sounded 165 pairs of lost feet as they crowded around the information desk in Tanner. It was Monday, September 22, the beginning of Freshman Week, and the owners of these "achin'" feet were seeking Jones Chapel where President H. Gary Hudson was to give his welcome address to the young hopefuls.

After receiving their welcome, the "freshies" devoured a picnic lunch and attended the local cinema. Tuesday morning they were up with the fourth rays of dawn and off to spend the day listening to the glad tidings of Dean Hildner and Dean McCracken and the evening intermingling at the mixer in Baxter.

Since activities, traditions, and songs make up a vital part of college life, Wednesday morning brought an assembly to acquaint the innocent ones with these essentials. A wet soft ball field and a not-so-dry tennis court welcomed the would-be athletes to the playday in the afternoon, and then in the evening all who were still able to shake hands attended the President's reception.

Thursday was red letter day in each freshman's diary, classes began.

Freshman Week came to a glorious finale on Friday night when the upper class male worms crawled out of their shells to appraise the freshman female worms at the Bookworm Crawl.

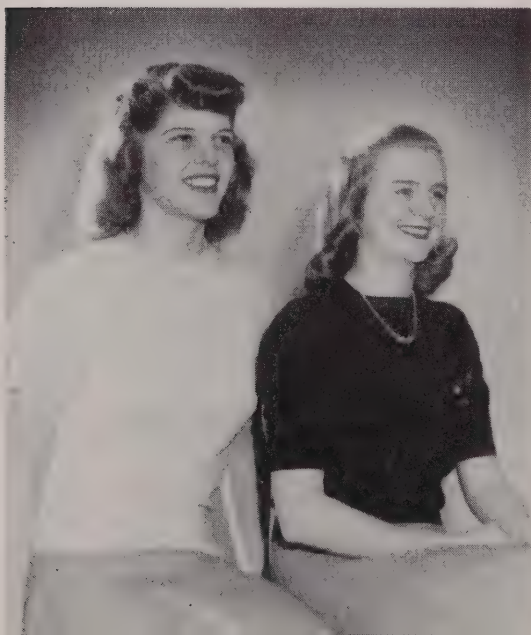

When new friends get together

HOME COMING

The bonfire was lighted! The 1948 Homecoming had begun! And as the fire blazed and the singing grew louder, the line for the snake dance formed. This "arm-jerker" bolted through town, down to "Mac", and then disintegrated.

A non-typical J'ville sun greeted the events of the following day. Colonial Inn won the house decorations cup and Gamma Nu with their man-powered tank "walked off" with the float cup. The I. C. sun went under a cloud on the football field in the afternoon, but its reflection was back in time to add glamour to the Homecoming formal.

LEAF RAKING

Man the rakes! Leaf raking day is here again. Each year it is a tradition of Illinois College to hold a leaf raking day in the fall of the year. On this designated day, afternoon classes are dismissed so that the students and faculty, under the false pretense of raking leaves, may engage in leaf fights.

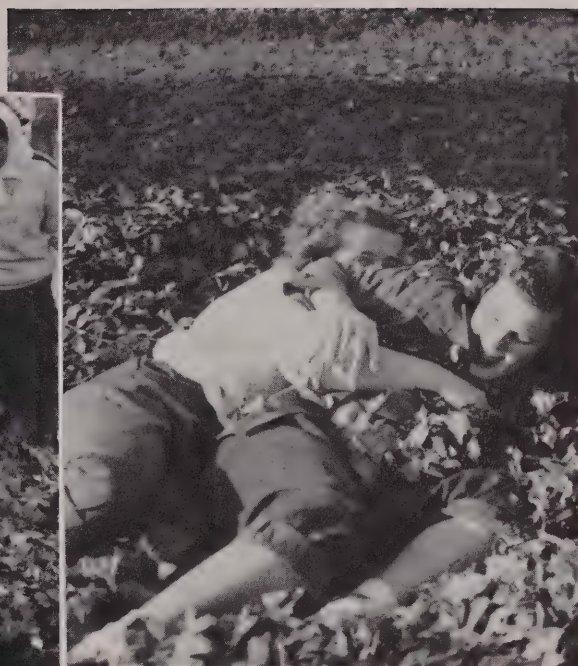

The campus is divided into sections, with a group of students headed by a senior, ordered to work on each section. The raking began at one o'clock and the boys gathered on the campus to watch the girls rake leaves.

Sugar with your coffee?

And the girls raked on.

And we didn't work ALL the time.

The raking was soon in full swing and the piles of leaves began to reach the desired size. Strong I. C. men rolled up their sleeves and prepared to perform. They took the rakes from the blistered feminine hands and "gently" tossed the women into the leaves. The girls, however, had no priority on this thrilling experience. Faculty members were handled with an equally unprejudiced attitude.

The Sigma Phips then came to the rescue. They treated (for a small fee) all survivors with coffee and doughnuts. All those who had lifted a rake were rewarded with a ticket to the annual Leafraking dance. Since the dance was an informal affair, the rakers just shook the leaves from their jeans and wound up the day dancing to the music of Vaughn Wilson.

WINTER WEEK

"Let it snow, let it snow, let it snow." And it did. During the month of January the Illinois College campus became the home of snow men and icicles. Snow covered the ground and ice covered the sidewalks and trees.

New modes of transportation were sought by many persons. Several I.C. profs and students were seen sending their bicycles south and getting out their dog sleds. And ice skaters glided up College Avenue as if they were on a frozen pond! One student resorted to wearing baseball shoes in order to keep his equilibrium.

The yard in front of Crampton Hall became the scene of snowball battles. Although the firing was quite violent, no casualties were reported.

Several people, however, suffered injuries from falls on the icy walks. The J'ville hospitals had one of the busiest seasons in years.

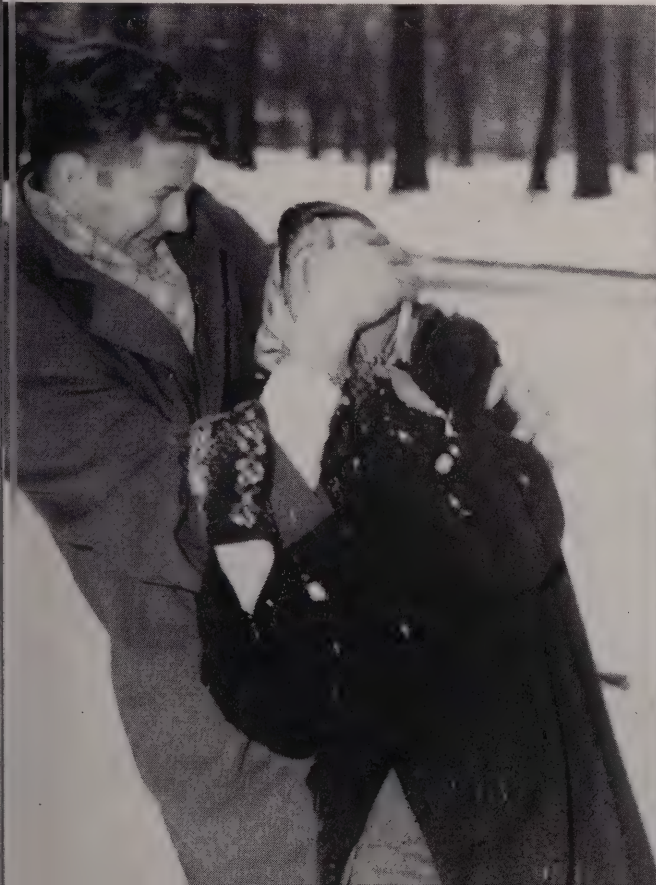

Despite the misfortunes caused by this snow and ice avalanche the scenic effects were beautiful. Nothing could have been more breath-taking than the moon reflecting on the ice-covered branches of the trees. And then as the sun came out and melted this glittering mirror, the winter scene faded away for another year.

Powder your face with snowballs.

WOMEN'S WEEK

The I. C. A. W. each year sponsors Women's Week in order to give the I. C. man a week of treats instead of treatments.

"Treats" began on Monday, January 17, with the Coffee Hour and Baxter lounge was filled with coffee guzzlers and doughnut dunkards. The moral of this procedure was that "the quickest way to a man's heart is through his stomach!"

On Tuesday the Colonial Inn girls discovered a somewhat different way to the men's hearts when they presented the skit, "A Typical Dorm Scene," during chapel hour. "Men" appeared to be the chief topic of conversation in a typical girls' dorm.

Still thinking about men, "I want to date an I. C. man" echoed over the campus on Wednesday night when the I. C. Dinah Shores serenaded the boudoirs of their Romeos and singing was yet in the air Thursday evening when Baxter lounge was host to an all-school sing. Hot chocolate was served to loosen the vocal cords.

Women's Week closed with an informal dance, "Button and Bow Down," on Friday night. A stunt show exhibiting many hidden talents was presented during intermission. Then as the clock struck twelve, the women returned to their routine lives.

Familiar scenes on campus include the hungry dinner line temporarily appeased with a new

Rambler and seniors basking in the sun, and their own glory on their hallowed "Senior Bench."

ORGANIZATIONS

Busy feet at their busiest—collecting news items for the RAMBLER, dashing out for the latest prints for the RIG, taking part in the Forum, chorus, band, society, and all kinds of campus activities—here, as elsewhere, the active foot has its toe in every door. Sporting the much-coveted argyle, our campus foot leads the way to bigger and better things, socially and academically.

STUDENT BODY PRESIDENT

Robert E. Elkin, student body president, has been substantially instrumental in guiding student activities throughout the school year 1948-49. Bob has worked untiringly to bring all groups on campus to a better understanding, each of the other, by attempting to concentrate their efforts, both at work and in recreation, toward our common goal—a united student body. Under his administration, student government has been strengthened through new power granted by the administration to the Forum.

STUDENT FORUM

The Student Forum is the governing body regulating student activities. During the year the group handled many complicated problems with integrity, wisdom, and harmony. By hard work, the Forum was able to live up to its motto: "Put I.C. on Top in '48."

Forum achievements included better financial provisions for the Student Union, nominations of efficient students to supervise Forum-sponsored activities, and recognition by the faculty as a responsible organization.

LECTURE COMMITTEE

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

The purpose of the Social Committee is to schedule and plan all major formal and informal dances on campus. This year the committee was under the chairmanship of Jack Hudson. Other of the committee members assumed the responsibility of preparation for each individual dance. They were further aided in their work by the guidance of Dean Genevieve McCracken. Members shown are (L. to R.) Dottie Sloan, Gene Lekan, John Clouser, Bob Schmidt, Martha Cloyd, Albert Hudson, Ed Armstrong, Edwina Johnston, and Jack Hudson.

DISCIPLINARY COMMITTEE

The Student Disciplinary Committee, composed of Guy Lamb, John Kluz, and Charlotte Persigehl, is a recent addition to the Forum committees, having been born with the new student body constitution. Appointed by the student body president, the committee serves jointly with three faculty members, the Dean of Women, and the Dean of Men to form the Disciplinary Board.

Faith Metzler, Mary Lee Coultas, Anne Kerr

I. C. A. W.

Throughout the year, the Illinois College Association of Women, or I. C. A. W., as it is more commonly known, served to promote unity and loyalty among all women on the campus. Every woman attending the college automatically became a member of this group.

Governing the organization were Anne Kerr and Mary Lee Coultas, presidents; Connee Broad and Anne Kerr, who both served in the capacity of vice-president; and Faith Metzler, secretary-treasurer. Barbara Land, Betty Jost, and Hester Attridge served as representatives from the senior, junior, and sophomore classes.

I. C. A. W. sponsored a luncheon during Freshman Week at which each freshman was introduced to her "Big Sister." Then followed a week of brick totin' for the New Gym, lack of makeup, clothing eccentricities, and serenading, planned by I. C. A. W. as an informal initiation into the organization. At the end of the week, formal initiation was held at a formal banquet at the Dunlap Hotel.

During the year the girls sponsored a Christmas party for the underprivileged children of the area.

During the Winter Term, Women's Week was held at I. C. The girls sponsored an afternoon coffee hour at Baxter, an All College Sing, a serenade of the men's dormitories, and a Chapel Hour skit satirizing dormitory life. The week was climaxed with a Faculty-Student Variety Show and dance.

A Mother's Day dinner highlighted I. C. A. W. activities for the Spring Term. The organization also sponsored a dance for married veterans and their wives. The girls acted as baby-sitters the night of the dance so that parents could have one evening of enjoyment without the burden of their offspring.

Under the guidance of Dean Genevieve McCracken, I. C. A. W. looks back upon another successful year.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

During the fall term, a chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, the national service fraternity, was organized on the Illinois College campus. The membership of Alpha Phi Omega—or APO, as it is more commonly known—is composed of men who have been previously affiliated with the boy scout organization. This is the only requirement for membership; thus APO includes as its members men who belong to each of the literary societies as well as those who are independents.

The officers who were elected for the school year 1948-49 were Russell Walton, president; Don Rikli, secretary; and Byron Jay, treasurer.

APO is primarily a service organization. Its purpose, as set forth in the fraternity constitution, is "to assemble college men in the fellowship of the Scout Oath and Law, to develop friendship and promote service to humanity."

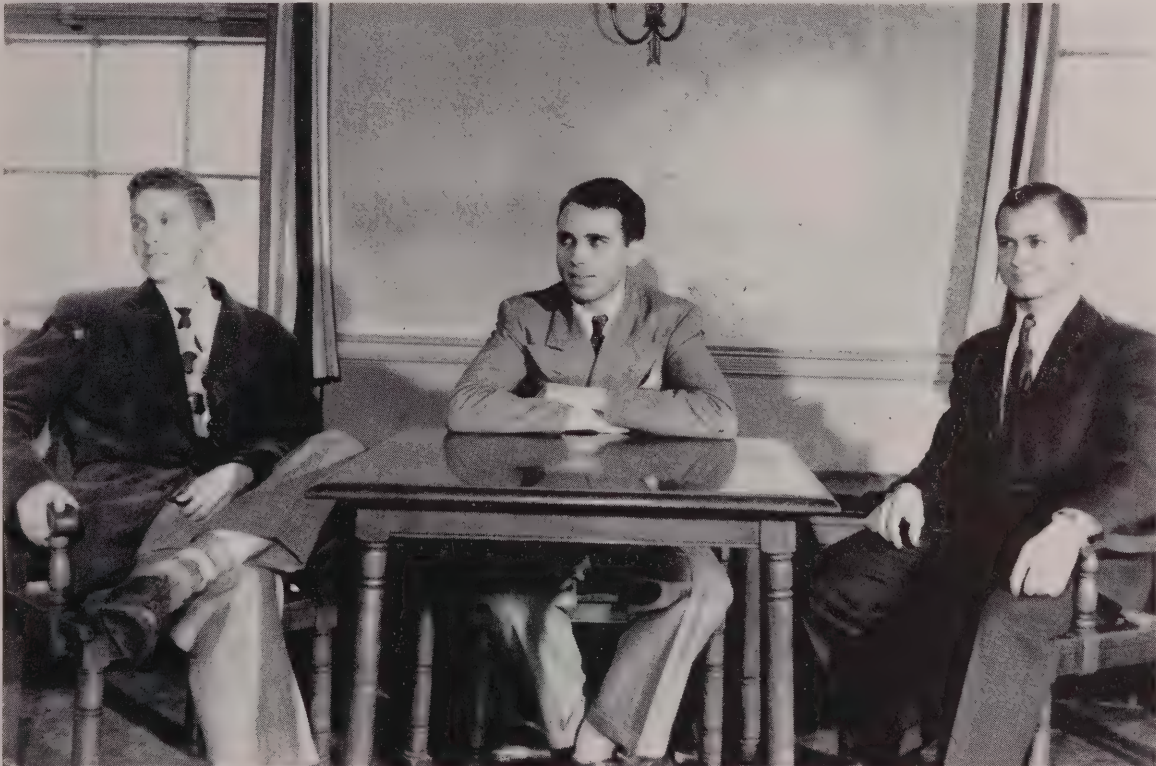

The fraternity's principal service project for the year was their sponsorship of the campus March of Dimes drive against infantile paralysis. The student body's contribution was quite generous. The money was later turned over to the Jacksonville March of Dimes drive committee. This first service project was declared a success by the members of APO. They continued their efforts through the rest of the school year by doing such things as ushering at recitals and lectures.

On January 28, APO sponsored an all-school dance in Baxter Hall. Music was furnished by Dick Leasenby's "Sophisticats." As an extra feature, a floor show was presented with Max Beschloss acting as the evening's "MC". The main act on the program revolved around an old time melodrama entitled "Tied to the Railroad Tracks."

Although it is the newest organization on campus, Alpha Phi Omega has shown indications of becoming one of the most active.

THE "I" CLUB

The "I" Club was organized in 1922 to promote interest in athletics and athletes at Illinois College. Membership in the club is not confined solely to lettermen as the name would imply, but on the contrary embraces all those students and alumni who are interested in athletics. Only lettermen, however, may hold office.

The club's main purpose is to foster friendly relations between athletes, other members of the student body, and the faculty. The club promotes athletic activities through the medium of aid to athletes when necessary, either by finding jobs or through a direct financial loan. In addition, it seeks to foster student body interest in athletics through the encouragement of good sportsmanship. The club's slogan might very well be, to borrow from a sports announcer,

"You don't have to participate in sports to be a good one."

To raise funds, the club has charge of concessions at sports events and school dances. One of the sports highlights of the year is the annual "I" Club banquet at which an outstanding sports personality is the guest and main speaker.

"I" Man's Day each year is a day set aside to welcome former lettermen who return as guests to a sporting event and a dance given in their honor.

Officers for the school year 1948-1949 are:

PSYCHODELPHIA

Psychodelphia is an honorary psychology society whose main purpose is the expansion of the study of psychology among its members. Throughout the year, guest speakers have given lectures to the society. Among the speakers during the past year were Mr. Heiss, guidance councilor for Jacksonville schools; Mrs. Ailesworth, psychiatric social worker at the state hospital; and Mr. Ivan Garrison, a former member of the society.

THE ECONOMICS CLUB

Through the efforts of a group of students and faculty members, The Economics Club was established during the past year. Within a period of less than two terms, the diversified programs of the club became a recognized part of campus activity. Headed by Robert Kibele, president; Roy Arroll, vice-president; and Pat Crocker, secretary-treasurer; the group conducted a vigorous and stimulating schedule of meetings, informal discussions, debates, and lectures.

Faculty advisers of the group were Mr. L. Pasel, Mr. N. Ture, and Mr. A. Samore.

Varsity Debate

Under the tutoring of debate coach, Lloyd P. Dudley, the Illinois College varsity debate squad completed an extensive schedule of intercollegiate debates.

The two high points of the year were the State Debate Tournament held here on March 18 and 19, and the National Pi Kappa Delta Tournament held at Bradley University in Peoria, April 11-14. The debaters also made trips to the University of Illinois, Northeastern Missouri State College, Illinois Normal University, and Eastern Illinois University.

Pi Kappa Delta

The Illinois Phi Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary forensic society, started the year with the ink hardly dry on its charter. In April the society sponsored the Freshman Debate. Throughout the year the society has served as hosts to visiting debate teams. In May the first Open Meeting was held. Seven new members were taken in during the year.

INTER-SOCIETY DEBATE

"Resolved that the Federal government should adopt a policy of equalizing education in tax supported schools by means of annual grants" was the debate topic of the evening as Phi Alpha's two debaters met to defend the Inter-Society Debate Championship won by their society the previous year. Gamma Nu, the challenger, having won over Sigma Pi in the eliminations, upheld the affirmative. The Phi's defended the negative.

The judges' decision, following a very active debate, proved to be in favor of Richard Mills and Roland Krizenecky, the Phi Alpha representatives.

INTER-SOCIETY ORATION

The William D. Sanders Oratorical Contest took place in Jones Chapel on December 9, 1948. This was the first of a series of annual contests to be held. Representatives from all literary societies as well as from the independent group were eligible to participate. Margaret Foreman of Gamma Delta received the judges' award for her oration "Only in a Whisper". The Men's Division was won for Sigma Pi by Charles Baldwin, with an oration entitled "Who Will Find the Fact?"

Other societies represented were Alpha Eta Pi, by Delores Carten; Chi Beta by Alice Meffert; Sigma Phi Epsilon, by Dorothy Foote; Phi Alpha, by Richard Mills; Independent's Organization, by William Shaefer.

THE RAMBLER

On September 22, 1948, the Illinois College Rambler began its seventy-first year of continuous publication. This year the Rambler was under the leadership of editor Thomas Mitchell, assistant editor Edward Armstrong, and business manager Richard Teckenbrock. Dr. Charles Frank again served as faculty advisor of the publication.

The Rambler is the official weekly newspaper of the Illinois College student body. Aiding the editors is a staff of volunteer reporters who try to keep abreast of the news on the campus and keep the I. C. students informed on events that occur on this campus and at neighboring colleges.

This year a talented staff of cartoonists enlivened the pages with their timely drawings, and staff photographer Robert Lewis supplied pictorial coverage of campus events.

During the course of the year the editors attempted to reflect in their editorial policy the views of the majority of Illinois College students and to suggest improvements that could reasonably be made here at I. C.

THE RIG VEDA

The Rig Veda, or in translation, "Prayer Book of the Hindus", has been published annually since 1892. It serves as a pictorial history of the school year. This year's "Rig", the largest book since the war, takes as its theme "A Walk Through I. C." and follows the footsteps of students and faculty members through classes, sports, organizations and recreation.

Mina-Jean Miller and Annetta Kerr served as co-editors and Barbara Langan was business manager. Robert Lewis served ably as staff photographer and Mr. J. B. Martin was faculty advisor for the publication. Martha Cloyd, Helen Mallerger, Edward Armstrong, David A. Jackson, Peggy Foreman, Margaret Chapin, Mary Griffenhagen, and Betty Wilson served as section editors.

The editorial and business staffs of the 1949 Rig Veda wish to express their gratitude and appreciation to all those who have cooperated in the publication of this year's book.

Mr. Martin, M. Chapin, A. Kerr, H. Attridge, M. Miller, J. Maguire, B. Langan, L. Schuster, B. Shewmaker, M. Shaffner, J. Graham, E. Athey, B. Wilson, J. Larson, M. Griffenhagen, H. Mallerger, R. ## THE HILLTOP PLAYERS

The Dramatic Club, founded in 1912, is known as the Hilltop Players. This group is guided by a board made up of the student officers and their faculty director, Octavia K. Frees. Membership is comprised of active and inactive members. Students applying for membership are inactive until they have completed a specified amount of work as members of play casts or of production crews.

In October of the current school year Hilltop Players initiated their new members at a formal initiation banquet in Baxter Hall. After taking the pledge each new member contributed to the entertainment.

Seated: Carol Vojta, Edward Cox, Lorraine Schuster, Miss Frees, William DeFrates, Harry LaTier, Joan Sheahen, Annetta Kerr.

Standing: Richard Pratt, Charlotte Persigehl, Eugene Lekan, Virginia Wilhoit, Patricia Pierce, Don Polzin, CarmaLu Broad, Mae Carlson, Roland Krizenecky, Alice Meffert, Mary Elkin, Helen Mallergren, Clayton Torbet, John Kluz, Phyllis McDermith.

At their monthly meetings Hilltop Players made plans for the three productions which they present annually. The first play of the year was a comedy, the second was serious, and the third, following Illinois College tradition, was a Shakespearean production.

PRODUCTIONS

ARSENIC AND OLD LACE

Arsenic and Old Lace, the first play of the year, concerned the homicidal tendencies of two old maids living in Brooklyn. With well-meaning intent they served lonely old men elderberry wine spiked with arsenic. The thirteen bodies of these men, a deranged nephew, and a slap happy brother contributed to the hilarity and suspense of Arsenic and Old Lace.

CHARLES AND MARY

A number of well known literary figures appeared in the dramatic production, Charles and Mary. This play was set in London in the period 1796-1800. The plot is concerned with Charles Lamb's sacrifices and problems which arose from the insanity of his sister, Mary.

A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM

A Midsummer Night's Dream, a delightful tale of confused love affairs, was the annual presentation of the traditional Shakespeare classic given by the Hilltoppers in June. The Ames Woodland Theatre provided realistic scenery for this comedy whose setting is the forest of a band of fairies.

Scenes from "Arsenic And Old Lace"

THE CHORUS

Under the direction of Mr. Henry E. Busche, the chorus enjoyed the largest membership in its entire history during its 1948-49 season. Two community concerts were presented by the group. At both of these productions, a special ensemble added to the regular program.

The Illinois College Band began its year with "great expectations"—and an unusually large roster of members. The band added much to the collegiate spirit throughout the year. As the literal "leaders" of the Homecoming Parade, boosters at all football and basketball games, the band came to be known and enjoyed by the student body. Director of the campus musicians was Mr. James Welsh.

THE MARCHING BAND

Harry LaTier, William Williams, Edward Doney, Glenn Ebaugh, Robert Kunzelman, Wilbert Doughty.

The Veterans Organization

The Illinois College Veteran's Organization played a significant part in campus life during its third year of existence. The organization helped campus World War II veterans meet the problems that affronted them as a group. It also served as an outlet for united veteran opinion. Mr. Jesse L. Clements served as faculty advisor and Mr. Daniel Kerr was honorary chaplain. Officers were: Ed Doney, president; Harry LaTier, vice-president; and Dick Doughty, secretary-treasurer.

THE CAMERA CLUB

One of the youngest organizations on campus is the Camera Club. Organized in November of 1948, the group used their regular meetings throughout the year as an exchange center for different photographic concepts, ideas, and interests. The club also worked toward the establishment of a permanent fully-equipped campus dark-room. Miss Barbara Hobbs acted as faculty adviser for this new, but active group.

Robert George, business manager; Henry Reinders, president; Joan Sheahen, secretary.

During the 1948-49 school year, Gamma Nu chapter of Kappa Phi Sigma continued to follow its well-established traditions and added further glory to its name. Returning alumni saw the new Trophy Room and "coke" bar, which was presented to the chapter by the fall term active members, under the sponsorship of Jim Salak and Jim Lentz. A feature of the Homecoming Weekend was the award to Gamma Nu of the float trophy.

During the winter term, nearly twenty new active members were initiated into the chapter in the traditional manner.

Gamma Nu concentrated a great deal of attention on athletics. The intramural touch football trophy was added to the Trophy Room. Three chapter members lettered in football; Bill Gross starred in varsity basketball; the chapter had a very fine representation on the varsity baseball team; and Glenn Skinner was captain of the fencing team.

In other fields, Guy Lam served on the Disciplinary Committee; Tom Mitchell was a member of the Student Forum and editor-in-chief of the Rambler; Joe Baker and Jim Mullen were active in the Hilltoppers; Ken McGuire was a member of the Lecture Committee; two members did duty on the Vets' Committee; and Bob Gregory and Tom Mitchell were elected to Who's Who.

PHI ALPHA

The year 1948-49 was marked by the continued leadership of Phi Alpha in campus affairs. The society, now in its one hundred and fourth year, continued to present its traditional level of lively and well-diversified literary programs. During the year a total of twenty new men were added to the roll of active members. This year, too, saw a concentrated drive for funds for the renovation of "Old Beecher".

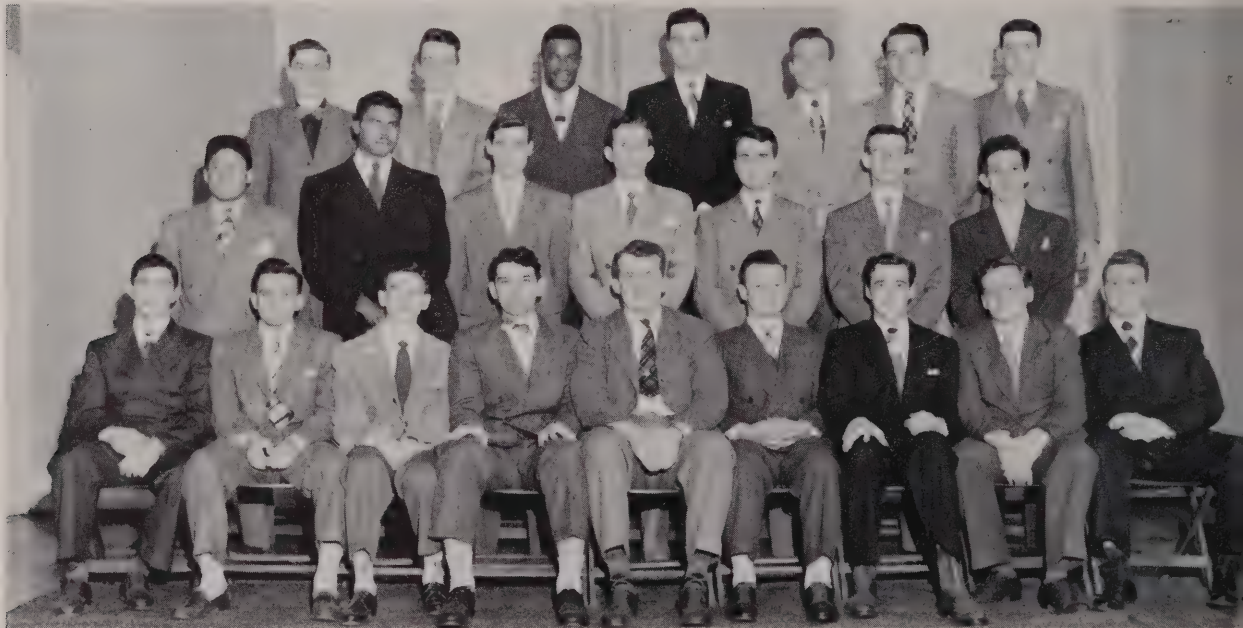

Phi Alpha maintained a well-balanced program of social activities. Date nights, stag parties, and serenades were held throughout the year. Highlights of the year's activities were the Homecoming meeting, the open meeting, and the formal dance held in the spring.

In the second year of intersociety debates since the war, Phi Alpha again succeeded in winning the coveted Faculty Debate Trophy. Members of Phi Alpha were active in Pi Kappa Delta, and two of them served as its president and vice-president. Four Phis sat on the student forum and one on the joint student-faculty lecture committee, while another served as Homecoming chairman. The student body president, the president of the Senior Class, and the president of the Hill-toppers were all Phis. Phi Alpha also had teams participating in intramural sports.

SIGMA PI

The first meeting of the one-hundred and sixth year of Sigma Pi found twenty-nine active members returning to the fold. During the course of the year seventeen new men were taken into membership. Faculty members Calvin Vriesen, Daniel Kerr, Ernest Stowell and Walter Gaylor were taken into the society as honorary members.

The first term found the society busy making plans for the various activities of the school year. The annual Homecoming meeting was held October 22. During the second term the Sigs led in Intramural Basketball and held their Novelty Dance in February. The Love Feast was the outstanding event of the third term.

Members of the society were active in campus affairs and athletics. R. Teckenbrock was business manager of the Rambler. C. Baldwin won the intramural oratorical contest. R. Clark, B. Haines, C. Baldwin, R. Teckenbrock, J. Laschinski, and A. Williamson were on the Forum. The society took part in intramural football, basketball and soft ball. Matthews, Scheller, Spink, Brand, Due, Ryan, Laschinski and Harshman saw action on the gridiron. Due, Clark and Shouse played Varsity basketball. Kluz, Ryan and Hughes dubbed the fairway with the golf team, and Clark showed up well on the tennis team.

CHI BETA

In the traditional rose and candlelight ceremony eight Chi Beta Pledges were initiated into the society, marking the beginning of an eventful year for Chi Beta.

As soon as literary programs were well launched, Homecoming plans engrossed the Chi Betas. A float that attempted to help I. C. "take the cake" was entered in the parade, and at the Cozy alumnae were welcomed and many old friendships renewed.

December found the Chi Betas busy selling chances for their radio raffle and, in keeping with society tradition, gracing the hall of Tanner with a brightly decorated Christmas tree.

The Open Meeting for freshmen women was held in January and soon after this came the Inter-Society Honorary Tea at which the society's honorary members were honored. Date nights, centering around hayrides and taffy pulls, were held for the entertainment of members and their guests.

Gamma Deltas and Sigma Phips turned out en masse to play cards and chat at the dessert bridge given in February. At the beginning of the new semester four new pledges were initiated into the society. Closely following these events came the Freshman rush party and then plans were started for the Inter-Society Formal and the annual Love Feast.

Socially the Gamma Deltas were off to a good start with their second annual all school party, "Behind the Swinging Doors". Patrons received entertainment, food, and drink, as well as dancing privileges. Preceding this, the Gamma Delts were represented at the Homecoming Dance by Mary Lee Coultas and Edwina Johnston who served as Queen and attendant, respectively. To end the year 1948, the Christmas Cozy, complete with homemade cooking and gifts, was held at the home of Bettie Ann Rust. During December Peggy Foreman added to the already trophy laden mantle by winning the Sanders Oratorical Plaque for Gamma Delta. Another trophy recently added was the circulating cup annually awarded to the society presenting the best programs throughout the year. January brought more activities led by the Freshman Open Meeting which was centered around the comic strip character, "Sad Sack".

GAMMA DELTA

Gamma Delta opened the year with its traditional formal initiation welcoming nine sophomores who pledged their allegiance to Gamma Delta in the candlelight ceremony at David A. Smith House. Following the ceremony everyone adjourned to the Dunlap Hotel for supper.

Women and their importance in science, culture, fashions, and art were the topics for discussion this year.

Each guest received as a favor a laundry bag. Soon after this, Gamma Delta joined forces with Chi Beta and Sigma Phi Epsilon to entertain the honorary members at tea.

One of the several date nights held during the year was in the form of a hayride. Old man moon collaborated with the weather man to provide just the right atmosphere. Later in the year, the back room of the County Jail was once again filled with Gamma Deltas and their customers attending the annual rummage sale. The year came to a close with the celebration of the annual Love Feast.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

Sigma Phi Epsilon started an eventful year with its traditional candlelight ceremony for the initiation of new members. This raised our membership to 24. In October, we welcomed many alumni at the Homecoming Cozy; the girls turned out the next morning to decorate the float, the theme of which was "Mash Wesleyan." The girls, all carrying potato mashers, circled around a large wire masher in the center of the float. The sophomores sold I. C. pennants at the game; on leaf-raking day they again aided the treasury by a successful sale of coffee and doughnuts to weary rakers. The first date-night was held in Baxter Lounge and a few weeks later the Sig Phips experienced a soggy hay-ride. "Santa Cloyd" entertained and distributed gifts and poems at the Christmas Cozy. Following vacation, several members assisted at the Honorary Tea held in cooperation with Chi Beta and Gamma Delta. Later in January, we held the Open Meeting for Freshmen Women, following the theme "The Bells Are Ringing." Favors of sachet bells were presented to the guest following refreshments.

At the beginning of the second semester two new members were initiated and the new officers were installed. An informal date-night was held February 19 and the Inter-Society Formal added to our social functions. We were hostesses at the annual Easter Breakfast for the other women's societies. This was held at State Street Presbyterian Church and was entitled "Breakfast with the Sigma Phips." The Rush Tea for Freshmen Women was held soon after at the home of Mrs. Robert Capps. The theme "Dagwood and Blondie" was cleverly followed with Dagwood Sandwich programs and Blondie's Hats as favors. The 33rd annual love-feast was held at the end of the year.

Many new "talents" were discovered through the calling of second roll and we enjoyed several boxes of engagement candy. We then closed a year of Knowledge, Love, and Service.

ALPHA ETA PI

Alpha Eta Pi, the freshmen women's society, got off to a good start last fall. After we had elected our officers and had our first meeting, we realized what an important position the Parliamentarian occupies. Our programs have been light. Two of the themes used were "Unrequited Love", and "Kintergarden Capers". We all appreciated a new version of an old favorite, "Little Hood Redding Ride".

We all had fun working on our "Circus" float at Homecoming. It turned out to be a circus in more ways than one.

Our first social fling was a hayride, however, plans had to be altered considerably due to the fact that the hayracks didn't show up. We all had an enjoyable time, however, square-dancing in Baxter Lounge. Our first date night was a big success. The program was well-received, the gossip column included.

Our representative in the Oration Contest was Dolores Cartin. Her theme was "Universal Peace". We were very proud of the fact that she won second place. Donna Postlewaite and Florence Majewski represented us in the Hilltoppers playing the leading roles in Arsenic and Old Lace. Many of our members have served on committees for the Hilltop Players.

INTER-SOCIETY BOARD

Standing: Barbara Land, Leta Sanderson, Helen Mallergren, Martha Cloyd, Eleanor Rossman.

Seated: Marlo Reazer, Mary Lee Coultas, Mina Jean Miller, Janet Braun.

The Inter Society Board is composed of the presidents and two members of Chi Beta, Gamma Delta, and Sigma Phi Epsilon Literary Societies. The offices rotate annually. This year the presidency was held by Chi Beta. Mina Jean Miller was first semester's president. Gamma Delt, Mary Lee Coultas, held the position of secretary.

The Inter Society Board's duties include building and maintaining closer association between the upper class women's societies and governing the activities of the freshmen women's society, Alpha Eta Pi.

It is one of the duties of this board to govern all rush functions and to set the dates concerning such affairs. The rush captains were chosen from Sigma Phi Epsilon this year, Jan Braun serving first semester.

Another duty of this board is to arrange all the inter-society functions that take place during the year. Chi Beta, Gamma Delta, and Sigma Phi Epsilon worked together last December to produce the annual Honorary Tea for all the faculty wives and honorary members of the various societies. The women's Spring Formal was also sponsored by the Inter Society Board.

THE INDEPENDENT ORGANIZATION

Not present: Glenn Ebaugh.

During the post-war period it has been found that many students on the Illinois College campus did not desire to belong to literary societies. This large group of independent students felt a need to have their interests represented in campus life. The result was the formation, in 1948, of the Independent Student Association whose affairs are handled by the General Committee and the General Chairman.

The purpose of the Independents, as decided at the original meeting, is to ensure representation of the independent students on the Student Forum, to foster a well rounded social program for the whole student body, to strengthen constructive student government, and to make every effort to develop a spirit of loyalty to Illinois College and its program of extra-curricular activities surpassing in-group loyalties.

In the general election of student officers in the Spring of 1948, the Independents took an intense interest and nominated Donald Longer for Vice-President, and Richard Allen and Edward Armstrong for representative-at-large on the Student Forum. The three nominees were elected. In the 1948 Fall election two Independent students were elected to the Forum. They were Harry LaTier, representative-at-large, and David Cohen, Freshman representative.

This year, Independents have served in many campus appointive positions. Among them was Jack Hudson, College Social Chairman. Independents have also served on many student committees.

To partly fulfill the Independent purpose of a well-rounded social program for the whole student body, the Independents have sponsored a series of informal school dances. They have also sponsored intramural athletic teams.

S P O R T S

A tattered, scuffed-out pair of gym shoes bears mute testimony to an athlete's hard-won glory. Shod in cleats, spikes, and gym shoes, I. C.'s athlete's foot has exerted sweat, skill, and tricky footwork, risking corns, bunions, and falling arches, to "defeat" the foe.

FOOTBALL

The Illinois College Blueboy grid squad, under the leadership of Athletic Director and Head Coach Al Miller and Line Coach Joe Brooks, staged its first successful post-war campaign during the fall of 1948.

With the veteran tackles, Jim and Sam Spink, co-captains, holding down the line with the aid of lettermen Don Longer and Charlie Due and newcomer Ralph Christison in the wing positions, along with Ray Paxton and Jerry Laschinski at center and Paul Lasley, George Florence, Bill Mathews, Bob Harshman, and Bob Brand alternating at the guard positions, the Blue eleven boasted a formidable forward wall.

The Blueboy backfield boasted all-conference halfback Joe Hill, speedy Art Wilson at the other halfback spot, all-around athlete Bill Gross at fullback, and the always capable Bob Grove, who did a brilliant quarterbacking job. Dave Billings, Bob Scheller, and Eb Ryan also saw much action in the backfield.

The I. C. eleven started out at a tremendous pace winning four straight. First they slapped down Scott Field 13-6 on the army base field. Then they returned home to turn back Principia 25-0. The next week they stepped into Little Nine competition by invading Naperville and turning back North Central College, '47 conference champs, by a 14-0 count. The following weekend they trampled Eureka 26-7 in another night contest on the local gridiron.

In the Homecoming battle with Illinois Wesleyan the Blueboys dominated first half play but fell behind 7-6 on a Wesleyan TD five seconds before the half. Despite the loss of many key men, the blue eleven held the visitors scoreless throughout the third period only to have them build up a 33-6 margin in the final quarter.

Still suffering from injuries, the Blueboys lost 35-0 and 28-13 in C. C. I. contests at Millikin and Lake Forest. They returned to form to swamp Elmhurst 47-0 and finished the season by losing at Hillsdale, Michigan, 40-6.

The 1948-49 I. C. cage squad, piloted by Coach Al Miller and Assistant Coach Joe Brooks, fought their most successful season in recent years.

The well balanced club boasted Don Longer and Bill Gross at forwards, Bob Murrin at center, Bill Shouse and Bob Grove at guards, and Barney Vilks and Dave Billings as capable reserves.

This Blueboy quintet won 18 of 24 games including eight of ten conference tilts and their own four team invitational tourney staged at I. S. D. Gym during Christmas vacation. They tied Wheaton for second place in the C. C. I. and barely missed being chosen for the N. A. I. B. playoffs in March.

Bill Shouse, third high scorer in the Little Nine, was rated a berth on the all-conference first five, while Bob Grove was a unanimous choice for the all-C.C.I. second team, and Bill Gross received honorable mention.

BASEBALL

Under the guidance of Coach Joe Brooks, the 1948 Illinois College Bluenine won twelve games against six losses and one tie. They made a strong bid for the Little Nine conference crown and emerged with a second place tie with North Central College and a 6-2 C.C.I. record. Their only conference losses came in two consecutive games with Illinois Wesleyan.

After losing their opening game to Quincy College, the Blueboys swept seven straight victories and a tie before going down in defeat at the hands of Eastern State in a Russel Field engagement that was rained-out after seven innings.

Illinois Wesleyan edged out the Blueboys for the conference laurels by salvaging an early season 5-5 tie with the Bluenine. When the game was replayed late in the season, the Titans won the contest, and with it the Little Nine Championship.

Coach Joe Brooks and Captain Bill Schafer

Bob Gregory and John Maynard shared the mound duties in all but one of the 19 games. Among Bob's string of five wins against three defeats were two C. C. I. wins over Millikin, one over Carthage, and one over Elmhurst. Maynard piled up an impressive record of seven victories and two losses. Included among his wins was a thrilling no-hit victory against Eureka.

The I. C. moundsmen were backed up by a strong defensive infield which included Bill Gross, Bill Schafer, Gene Thomure, and Paul Stroud with Jim Grant for utility work. Bob Grove led a parade of capable outfielders including Gene LeMay, Henry Takitani, Evo Bernardini, Jerry Krepelka, and Barney Vilks.

Coach Brooks lost a number of his regulars at the end of the '48 season. Among these were Bob Gregory, who joined the St. Louis Cardinals' organization, and Paul Stroud, who is ineligible because of his high school coaching work.

TENNIS

The I. C. tennis team, under the tutelage of Coach Walter Gaylor, has high hopes for a successful 1949 season.

The graduation of Bill Williams leaves veterans Ronald Jessen and Bob Clark around whom the team will be built. Newcomers to the varsity include last year's intramural winner Al Marsh, Bill Shaffer, and Bill Mueller.

The squad started practice last fall and opened up as soon as the weather cleared in the spring to prepare for a vigorous '49 campaign.

FENCING

With the advent of Mr. Gaylor in 47-48, I. C. added a new sport to its number—fencing. The fruits sown by this sport its first year are beginning to show signs of ripening. The teams now engage in matches with other schools.

The I. C. Foil and Saber team met the St. Louis City Fencing team twice; once at St. Louis January 22 and here March 12, 1949. The Women's foil team also engaged blades with Monticello College, February 12, 1949.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

Illinois College offers a wide and varied program of athletics for the women on the campus. During the fall term, softball, tennis, riding, fencing and bowling were offered. Mrs. Martha Stratton, who is in charge of women's athletics, instructed in bowling and tennis. Mr. Walter Gaylor instructed in fencing and coached the fencing team, which entered several intercollegiate competitions.

During the winter term, activities included bowling, folk dancing, and basketball. A bowling team was organized and a basketball team took part in inter-school contests, traveling to Western State Teacher's College at Macomb and to MacMurray here in Jacksonville.

Golf, swimming, tennis, softball, and archery made up the athletic program during the spring term. In spring also came the tennis tournament with MacMurray College.

Women are required to take two hours of physical education per week and are permitted to choose the courses that interest them.

CHEERLEADERS

The 1948-49 cheer-leading squad, under the leadership of Captain Mae Carlson, ably led the cheering sections at all of the home football and basketball games this year. The squad, dressed in their snappy blue and white uniforms, presented several new cheers to the student body during the year. Lois Arata, JoAnn Beggs, Paul Jockinson, Dick Jones, John Smith, and Mae Carlson made up the squad.

ADMINISTRATION

What intelligent looking rubbers! With their accompanying umbrella and brief case, they are easily recognized as the "prof's" props. Although many of our professorial feet are equally at home in gym or dancing shoes, we'd prefer to remember them this way—slushing or skidding decorously across I. C.'s muddy campus, a ubiquitous umbrella raised protectingly over slightly stooped shoulders, eyes peering near-sightedly (or is it just absent-mindedly?) ahead, the familiar brief case tucked carefully under the left arm. Dauntlessly and courageously, our faculty feet have braved the storms to join us in our walk through the halls of learning.

PRESIDENT H. GARY HUDSON

In this book are recorded the achievements of the students of Illinois College during the one hundred twentieth year of our proud history. We may remember this record with pride and pleasure in the years to come, but this book is more than a record of achievements. May it serve to recall days of happiness and warm friendships formed amid these winding walks and on this cherished campus held in memory ever dear!

C L A S S E S

Wrapped in deep concentration around the much-abused rung of a chair, the foot does its share of tedious work involved in getting an education. Often much less trimly shod, the collegiate foot bears the brunt of the day's scholastic activity — hurrying from Whipple to Federal and wading through a day of classes. In class, as in all walks of college life, the foot is completely at home, refusing flatly to be stepped on, it makes its voice heard with impatient taps and shuffles (especially toward the end of the period).

S E N I O R S

The Graduating Class of '49 is the largest class in the 120 year history of the college. Composed predominantly of veterans, the class of 93 members was capably led by its President, Richard Pratt, elected in the fall of 1948.

To the Class of '49, the first post war class, strictly speaking, fell the job of rebuilding college organizations, recapturing college spirit, and reinstituting pre-war traditions. These years called forth the best efforts of all in bringing back to the campus some vestiges of small college life under more normal conditions.

Officers of the class include Dick Pratt, president, and Annetta Kerr and David A. Jackson, class agents.

Spring term activities of the class in addition to baccalaureate and commencement include the annual luncheon given by the Alumni Association, the Senior Class Chapel, and the President's Reception.

Oh! my aching feet! Shopping, a very important part of college life, is all in a day's "foot"-work. It may be hard on the feet—which fight off swinging doors, chewing gum, and other feet—but it's fun. The loyal I. C. foot cheerfully bears its extra load when patronizing the Rig's friends down town.
